Our Vision

To be recognised as a leading provider of education that balances academics with holistic human development, rooted in a caring and community-centric environment.

Our Mission

To balance the individual and the collective in everything we do - providing personalised education suited to the needs of each student while emphasising the importance of collaboration and shared growth.

In doing so, to nurture compassionate, well-balanced young adults with the hard and soft skills necessary to succeed wherever life takes them.

NEWSLETTER

Dear Secondary Parents,

Thank you for another successful week here at Straits. We have now completed our Minor Assessments, while our Year 11s continue to soldier on through their IGCSE examinations. A few big papers are now behind them, and I'm sure they're breathing a sigh of relief as they look ahead to the finish line.

In this week's assembly, we explored the theme of rising above—particularly in the context of assessment results. We encouraged our student community to be visionaries, to make smart choices that promote learning and growth. The message was clear: short-term discomfort often leads to long-term success. We also reminded students that their learning journey is about personal progress, not just top marks. If each student has grown as a result of their hard work in Term 3.1, then every teacher here is incredibly proud.

Beyond assessments, we've also celebrated sporting success. Our U15 girls' volleyball team had a strong showing in their match against Taylor's KL. As always, our Straits champions gave it their all, and we're looking forward to more exciting games from our talented athletes.

Ms Tapisha also hosted our first Future Pathways parent workshop, offering valuable insight into the many options and support systems available to our students as they plan their next steps. This follows another successful Future Pathways Fair, where a range of universities visited to expose students to the opportunities ahead. If you weren't able to attend either event, please don't hesitate to contact Ms Tapisha for a more in-depth conversation about your child's future study options.

Finally, as part of our ongoing safeguarding procedures at Straits, we've introduced a new sign-out process for any student leaving before the end of the school day. If you need to collect your child early, please email their form teacher in advance with the reason and the expected pick-up time. Your child will remain in class, continuing their learning, until you arrive. Once on campus, please go to reception to sign them out. This helps us ensure the safety and wellbeing of all students. If you have any questions about the process, please get in touch.

As always, please feel free to reach out to me or any of our teachers if you'd like to talk about your child's learning journey. Staff emails are attached at the end of the newsletter, as usual.

Yours sincerely,

Simon Mitchell

Future Pathways

Dear Parents,

Yesterday, we held an Introduction to Future Pathways talk that provided an overview of how the programme supports our students and families in exploring future career directions. Parents benefited from the personalised guidance tailored to their child's interests and strengths - which was both insightful and encouraging. A big thank you to those who attended!

Up next is a much-anticipated event: A-Levels Options Talk by representatives from Tenby Setia Eco Park! They'll be introducing their Pre-University Centre at Tenby Schools SEP and highlighting the A-Level subjects offered, how their curriculum works, student life and university preparation support. This event is open to all parents, if you'd like to attend, please sign up here. Updates will also be posted on ClassDojo, so stay tuned!

In the meantime, we encourage you to begin or continue having future-focused conversations with your child at home. Here are some questions you could explore together:

- 👉 What subjects or activities make you feel most confident?
- 👉 Are there careers or industries you're curious about?
- 👉 What kind of lifestyle do you imagine for yourself in the future?

These simple but thoughtful questions can help your child reflect on their strengths, interests and aspirations - and show them that you're with them every step of the way.

Warmest Regards,

Tapisha Kaur

Secondary Multilingualism Newsletter

Multilingualism Matters

Dear Parents & Families,

This week's focus is on how to support your child with homework in English while encouraging them to use their home language as a tool for thinking and understanding. Using the home language at home isn't just okay – it's powerful and helpful!

 Tip of the Week: Supporting English Homework with Home Language Thinking

Why it matters:

Children learn best when they fully understand what they're being asked to do. Thinking and talking about tasks in the home language first helps them build confidence and clarity before working in English.

 Three Simple Ways to Help at Home

1. Translate Instructions Together

Before your child begins their homework:

- Read the task instructions in English.
- Talk about what the question means in your home language.
- Ask: "What do you need to do first?" or "Can we say this in our language?"

Even if you aren't sure of every word, discussing the meaning helps your child understand the goal of the task.

2. Discuss Ideas in Your Home Language

Help your child plan their answer by:

- Talking about the topic in your home language.
- Asking questions like:
 - "What do you already know about this?"
 - "How would you explain this to a friend?"
- Let them explain or brainstorm freely without worrying about grammar or spelling.

3. Build a Bridge to English

Once they've planned or talked about their answer:

- Help them find some key words in English.
- Use a dictionary or translation tool together if needed.
- Encourage them to write the first sentence, then talk it through together.

Remember:

Thinking in the home language is not “cheating” – it’s a smart strategy. Your child is building strong understanding and learning how to express themselves in both languages.

ILOS Program: ISP CHESS MASTERS

The ISP Chess Masters tournament is more than just a competition—it is a platform for students to challenge themselves intellectually, sharpen their decision-making skills, and develop resilience under pressure. Beyond the moves on the board, participants learn the value of strategy, adaptability, and perseverance. This event not only nurtures logical thinking and concentration but also builds confidence, fosters camaraderie among players, and instills a lifelong appreciation for the game of chess.

Through this tournament, students will:

- Know how to decode an issue and develop effective strategies.
- Understand the principles of gameplay and decision-making.
- Be able to apply logical reasoning, maintain mental stability under pressure, and execute well-thought-out moves.

Let's explore the Chess Masters learning experience through the journey of our secondary participant, Faheem (Y8).

(By Ms Aimi)

Hi, my name is Faheem, and I would like to share my journey with chess.

I started playing chess because I was curious about the game and wanted to challenge myself in a new way. I had seen others play and was fascinated by how such a quiet game could involve so much thinking and strategy. I wanted to be part of that, and I knew that learning chess would also help me become more focused and better at solving problems.

Being part of Chess Masters has taught me a lot more than just how to move pieces. I've learned how to plan ahead, think critically, and stay calm even when things don't go my way during a match. One of my proudest moments was when I managed to win a game in just a few moves. It showed me how important it is to stay alert and make every move count.

Sometimes the matches can be really tough, but I remind myself to breathe, focus, and take my time. Each game teaches me something new, whether I win or lose and I try to learn from every experience.

To keep improving, I like to practise online, especially on Chess.com, where I can play with people from around the world. I also enjoy watching chess matches and tutorials to pick up strategies. And when I get the chance, I play friendly matches with my friends, just to stay sharp and try out new techniques.

Chess has helped me grow in many ways, not just as a player, but also as a thinker.

ESG UPDATE

ESG Committee Bottle & Seed Collection Initiative

We're excited to launch a new sustainability project! Starting this week, the ESG Committee will be collecting clean plastic bottles and—soon—fruit seeds to help green our school.

Bottle Collection Bring 2 clean plastic bottles every Tuesday during break time to earn 1 house point. Collected bottles will be repurposed as planters for fruits and other plants around the school, helping us reduce waste and promote sustainability.

Coming Soon: Seed Collection We will soon begin collecting fruit seeds such as cucumber, lemon, plum, and avocado—plants that are easy to grow. Students and parents are encouraged to contribute! The start date for this part of the project will be announced shortly.

Let's work together to make our school greener—one bottle and one seed at a time!

North Star

A keel drifts silent through breathless murk,
where the lake forgets its name.
No birds, no bells—only the hush
of thoughts unlaced from shame.

The lantern stutters like a held-back word,
hung not for finding shore,
but to warm the hands of a ghost
I no longer row for.

Her name was once the wind,
her voice the salt I'd sip—
but now I sail with sails unpinned,
no tether, oath, nor script.

The lighthouse hums in riddled light,
not as a place, but pulse.
It flickers where my ache once dwelt—
now marrow, now convulse.

I do not hunt for harbors now,
nor barter warmth for stay.
The sea may roar with memory,
but I let the tide obey.

For I am not the one who pleads,
nor waits upon the pier.
I am the wave that leaves the reed,
and bends but does not fear.

The stars are not a promise made,
but eyes that do not close.
And in their hush, I am remade—
not whole, but more than those.

So let her sleep in distant bays,
with echoes still unfurled.
I row by wound, by quiet blaze,
and dream the edge of world.

Are you on the Green team?

Whenever you walk into the class or the hallways, you see all these familiar green posters with the phrase, “Are you on the Green team?” What is this? Who put this here? What does this mean?

Well, for those who don't know, the school and the ESG committee have created a survey with the QR code attached to the green poster across the whole school. The survey aims to collect how many of us as a member of the community are contributing to not only the principles of ESG, but to save the environment, even if it is the most minor action like turning off the light before leaving the classroom.

You can use your iPad or a mobile phone to scan the QR code, fill in the survey and post photos of you saving the environment!

If you scan the QR code and fill in the details, you may even be awarded with a ‘I'm On The Green Team' badge, assuming that you can prove that you really are helping us to meet our sustainability goals.

Moreover, the ESG committee has also devised a plan, encouraging all students to participate in our gardening activity. Our school is the perfect place to decorate with plants and an innovative way to show how we could reuse waste. A box will be placed around the school and students must clean and dry their seeds from fruits etc. and put them into the box. Using these seeds, cans or plastic bottles collected from the canteen will be used as flower pots.

Together as a community, we can save the earth and the environment.

Don't forget to fill in the survey.
